

This week we thought it would be fun to think about one of our favourite Eric Carle stories:

The Very Hungry Caterpillar

Please remember, you can pick one activity

(or maybe even two activities) from the list below to do per day.

Please feel free to do what you want to do and when what you want to do it.

You may even have your own ideas for activities which is absolutely fine.

The Very Hungry Caterpillar'

- Watch Mrs Clarkson read 'The Very Hungry Caterpillar' by Eric Carle
- Can you perform the story for your family? (maybe video call a relative and perform it for them)
- You could retell the story (template below) in pictures or in full sentences.
- You could draw each item of food that the caterpillar eats and label it?
- If you were a caterpillar what would you eat? Could you re-write the story by changing what the caterpillar eats? Maybe he has a 'Happy Meal' on Monday, a pizza on Tuesday, etc
- Write a book review (see examples of templates below)
- Now the caterpillar has become a butterfly, what does the butterfly do each day? Imagine it begins its day in your own garden. Where does it go? What does it see? Can you write descriptive sentences about the butterfly's journey?
- The Very Hungry Caterpillar maths activities (see below)
- Can you keep a food diary - are you healthier than the caterpillar? (write down what you eat for each meal for 5 days)
- Challenge yourself to try a new food (or maybe 2 or 3!): Do you think the caterpillar would like it? What do you think of it? What does it smell like? What does it taste like?
- Find out about the life cycle of a butterfly (see PowerPoint below)
- Caterpillar craft ideas (see ideas below) - pick one
- Butterfly craft ideas (see below) - pick one
- Balancing butterfly science experiment (see below)
